While working at a pizza place, I observed a man ordering a small pizza to go. He appeared to be alone, and the cook asked him if he would like it cut into four pieces or six. He thought about it for some time before responding... "Just cut it into four pieces. I don't think I'm hungry enough to eat six pieces."

Earl and Bob were in a local lounge enjoying a couple of beers when they decided to get in on a minor hockey team's raffle. They each bought five tickets for five bucks. The following week, when the raffle was drawn, each had won a prize. Earl won 1st prize—a year's worth of gourmet spaghetti sauce and extra-long spaghetti. Bob won 8th prize—a toilet brush. About a week or so had passed when the friends met back in the lounge. Bob asked Earl how he liked his prize, to which he replied, "Great, I love spaghetti! How about you Bob, how's that toilet brush?" "Not so good," answered Bob. "I reckon I'm gonna go back to paper."

The Englefeld Good Neighbors Club is having a raffle!

A concerned woman phones a doctor and says, "Doctor, I'm worried about my husband. He thinks he's a dog!"

The doctor says, "I'll be right there." When the doctor arrives, the woman opens the door, and her husband, on all fours, starts wagging his bottom and sniffing the doctor's hand. "Interesting," the doctor says. "I'll examine him. Make him lie down on the couch."

The woman says, "No way, he's not allowed on the furniture!"

After being on a blind date all evening, the man couldn't take another minute. Earlier, he had secretly arranged to have a friend call him to the phone so he would have an excuse to leave if something like this happened.

When he returned to the table, he lowered his eyes, put on a grim expression and said, "I have some bad news.

My grandfather just died."

"Thank heavens," his date replied. "If yours hadn't, mine would have had to!"
